To the right of the pool is a long, narrow building with a thatched roof, identified as the Lapa. Along the edge of the pool and the Lapa are several luxury sites, each with a private kitchen and bathroom. To the left of the pool is a row of smaller, grey-roofed buildings, likely the communal ablution block. In the bottom left corner, there is a parking area with a few cars and a small building. The surrounding landscape is dry and hilly.
